

ously with freshly ground pepper, pressing the pepper into both sides of the meat. Cut 6 rounds, each the same size as a steak, from thin slices of day-old bread and in a large heavy stainless steel or enameled skillet sauté them in 6 tablespoons clarified butter (January, 1978) over moderately high heat, turning them, until they are golden. Transfer the croûtes with a slotted spatula to paper towels to drain, arrange them on a platter, and keep them warm.

Add 3 tablespoons clarified butter to the skillet and in it sear the steaks over high heat for 3½ minutes on each side for rare meat. Remove and discard the barding fat or bacon and string, transfer the steaks with a slotted spatula to the platter, arranging each steak on a croûte, and keep them warm. Add ½ cup minced shallot to the skillet and cook it over moderate heat, stirring, until it is softened. Stir in 2 cups dry white wine and reduce it over moderately high heat to 1 cup. Stir in ½ cup quick espagnole sauce or brown sauce (February, 1978) and ¼ cup minced parsley and simmer the sauce for 2 minutes, or until it is thickened slightly. Remove the skillet from the heat and stir in 1 tablespoon lemon juice, or to taste. Swirl in 3 tablespoons softened butter, cut into bits, and pour the sauce over the steaks. Serves 6.

Quick Espagnole Sauce

In a large heavy saucepan cook ¼ pound each of veal and lean cooked ham and 1 carrot, all diced, and 1 onion stuck with a clove and quartered in ½ stick (¼ cup) butter over moderate heat, stirring, for 8 to 10 minutes, or until the meat is lightly browned. Add ¼ cup flour and cook the mixture over moderately low heat, stirring, for 5 minutes, or until it is a rich brown. Remove the pan from the heat, pour in 4 cups scalded tinned beef broth, and stir the mixture until it is well combined. Add a cheesecloth bag containing 3 sprigs of parsley, 1 bay leaf, and a pinch of thyme and simmer the sauce, stirring occasionally, for 30 minutes, or until it is reduced to 3 cups. Strain the sauce through a fine sieve into a bowl and season it with salt and pepper. Makes about 2 cups.

Tournedos with Bordelaise Sauce

In a large shallow ceramic or glass dish arrange in one layer six 1¼-inch-thick tournedos, each barded or wrapped with bacon and tied with kitchen string, add 2 cups dry red wine and 1 teaspoon thyme, and let the steaks marinate, chilled, turning them occasionally, for at least 2 hours. Remove the steaks with a slotted spatula, reserving the marinade, and pat them dry with paper towels. Season the steaks generously with freshly ground pepper, pressing the pepper into both sides of the meat.
